Finding a Clue

Max swung from vine to vine. He looked under big leaves. He peeked behind tall trees. "Where could the castle be?" he thought. Then, he saw something. A wall of very thick, green vines. They covered a big rock. Could the castle be behind them? Max felt a little flutter in his belly. He wanted to know!

A Little Push

The vines looked very old. They were tangled like big green ropes. Max tried to push them. They were too strong. "Oh, dear," Max said. He felt a little bit stuck. But then he remembered. Max is always brave! He looked closer. Maybe there was a tiny space he missed.

A Secret Way In

Max saw a small opening! It was just big enough for him. He squeezed his body through the vines. It was dark for a moment. Then, sunlight shone in. Max blinked his big eyes. He was in a secret garden. And right in front of him, something special stood. It was very pretty!

The Castle Found!

It was not a huge castle. It was a beautiful stone formation! It looked like a tiny, old castle, covered in soft green moss. Max smiled a big, happy smile. He had found the secret! He felt brave and smart. Max knew he could do anything. "Adventure is always waiting!" he said. He felt calm and happy inside.
