

Oliver Fox and the Wobbly Tower

Oliver Fox and the Wobbly Tower

Little Stories. Big Lessons.

A Day in Blossom Meadow

Oliver Fox skipped to Blossom Meadow. The sun was warm and bright. He saw his friend, Pip Squirrel. Pip had many colourful blocks. He wanted to build a very tall tower. But plink, plonk! The tower kept falling down. Pip looked a little sad. Oliver walked closer to see.

Oliver Fox and the Wobbly Tower

Little Stories. Big Lessons.

Pip Needs Help

“Hello, Pip!” Oliver said with a smile. Pip looked up. “Hi, Oliver,” he chirped. “I want to build a super tall tower. But it keeps falling down!” Pip sighed. Oliver saw how much Pip wanted to play. “Maybe I can help?” Oliver asked.

Oliver Fox and the Wobbly Tower

Little Stories. Big Lessons.

Let's Solve It Together!

Pip brightened. "Really?" he asked. Oliver nodded his fluffy tail. "Yes! Let's solve it together!" he said. "Maybe we can make the bottom blocks wider?" Oliver showed Pip how. Pip added blocks carefully. They took turns placing each one.

Oliver Fox and the Wobbly Tower

Little Stories. Big Lessons.

A Tall, Strong Tower

Up, up, up the tower grew! Oliver placed a red block. Pip placed a blue block. They giggled as it got taller. They worked as a team. The tower stood strong and straight. It was almost as tall as Oliver! What a great job they were doing.

Oliver Fox and the Wobbly Tower

Little Stories. Big Lessons.

Happy Friends

“We did it!” Pip cheered. Oliver grinned. “We built such a big tower!” They both felt very proud. Playing together was so much fun. It made their friendship strong. They knew they could always help each other. Oliver gave Pip a happy high-five.