

Toby Turtle and the Tree's Little Surprise

Toby Turtle and the Tree's Little Surprise

Little Stories. Big Lessons.

Toby's Favourite Place

Toby Turtle loved Crystal Lake. It was a bright morning. He swam by the shore. Big green trees stood tall nearby. Toby looked at their strong branches. He saw their big roots in the earth. 'Slow and steady discovers wonders!' he thought. He loved how trees made the air fresh and cool.

Toby Turtle and the Tree's Little Surprise

Little Stories. Big Lessons.

The Old Tree's Story

Toby slowly walked closer to a very old tree. Its bark was wrinkly, like a friendly old face. Tiny ants marched up its trunk. A little bird sang a happy song from its leaves. Toby smiled. Trees are homes for many friends. He wanted to feel the soft moss near its roots.

Toby Turtle and the Tree's Little Surprise

Little Stories. Big Lessons.

A Little Surprise

As Toby moved, he saw something bright. It was a shiny sweet wrapper. It lay right next to the tree's big roots. Toby felt a little sad. This wrapper did not belong here. It could make the tree sick. It was not good for the little ants or birds.

Toby Turtle and the Tree's Little Surprise

Little Stories. Big Lessons.

Toby's Helping Hand

Toby thought about his catchphrase. Slow and steady, he could help. He carefully used his strong flipper. He gently picked up the sweet wrapper. It was light. He held it safe. He knew a bin was not too far away. He started to walk towards it.

Toby Turtle and the Tree's Little Surprise

Little Stories. Big Lessons.

Nature Stays Happy

Toby put the wrapper in the bin. He felt happy. Now the tree was clean and safe. The ants and birds could play without it. Toby looked back at the tall tree. It looked happy too. Toby knew he helped take care of Wonderwood Valley. He swam back to Crystal Lake, feeling calm and proud.