A Sunny Morning

Toby Turtle loved Crystal Lake. The morning sun made the water sparkle. He watched dragonflies zip by. Many colourful birds sang happy songs from the green trees. Toby smiled. He loved listening to them. "Slow and steady discovers wonders!" he thought. He felt calm and happy.

A Tiny Sound

Suddenly, Toby heard a soft, sad sound. "Peep, peep," it went again. Toby looked very carefully. He saw a tiny brown bird on the ground, near a big tree. It was little Pip Bird! Pip Bird looked lost and scared. It was too small to fly back up.

Needing Help

Pip Bird flapped its tiny wings. It tried to jump, but it could not fly high. Its nest was way up, safe in a tall tree branch. Toby knew Pip Bird needed help to stay safe. He slowly, gently moved his big shell closer. Toby wanted to keep Pip Bird warm.

A Safe Place

Toby found a big, wide green leaf. He carefully nudged Pip Bird onto the soft leaf. Then he moved the leaf and Pip Bird under a safe, shady bush. Now Pip Bird was hidden and warm from the sun. Toby stayed nearby, watching. He hoped Pip Bird's mummy would come soon.

Happy Ending

Soon, Mummy Bird flew down from the tree! She saw her baby, Pip Bird, safe under the bush. She chirped a loud, happy song. Toby felt very good inside. He was so happy to help a friend. He loved protecting nature. "Slow and steady discovers wonders!" he whispered softly.
