A New Face by the Lake

Bella Bear was near Crystal Lake. The morning sun was bright. She saw a little blue bird. The bird sat quietly on a big rock. It looked a bit shy and sad. Bella smiled her gentle smile. "Kind hearts make happy days!" she thought. She knew how to help new friends feel happy and safe in Wonderwood Valley.

Hello, Chirp!

Bella walked slowly towards the bird. "Hello!" she said softly. "Are you new here?" The little bird, Chirp, nodded. Chirp chirped a very small, quiet sound. "My home is far away," Chirp said. "I do not know anyone here. I feel a little bit lost." Bella understood.

Sharing Happy Places

Bella thought for a moment. "It is okay, Chirp!" she said. "I can show you special places." She pointed a paw. "See the pretty flowers near the water? We can find the sweetest berries there!" Chirp looked at Bella. A tiny smile started on Chirp's beak. Bella knew sharing a happy activity helps.

Exploring Together

Bella and Chirp walked by the lake. Chirp saw colourful fish swimming. Bella showed Chirp a big, strong tree. "This tree has soft leaves for a cozy nest," Bella said. Chirp chirped a happy song this time. Bella shared a juicy berry she found. They sat and ate together.

A Warm Welcome

Chirp felt warm and happy with Bella. "Thank you, Bella!" Chirp said. "You are very kind." Bella hugged Chirp gently. "Kind hearts make happy days!" she said. Chirp now had a new friend and felt safe in Wonderwood Valley. They knew they would play together again very soon.
