Bella's Morning Walk

Bella Bear loved sunny mornings. She walked in Blossom Meadow. Golden sunshine warmed her soft fur. Many pretty flowers grew all around. Birds sang sweet, happy songs. Bella felt a deep joy inside. Then she saw her friend, Squeaky Squirrel. But Squeaky looked a little sad today.

Squeaky's Big Problem

"Hello, Squeaky!" Bella smiled softly. "Why do you look so glum today?" Squeaky pointed with his tiny paw. A very big pile of nuts sat there. "These are for my winter food," he said. "But they are too many and too heavy for me! I cannot carry them all home."

Bella's Kind Idea

Bella felt a little sad for Squeaky. She saw his worried little face. Bella knew how it felt to need help. She thought of a kind way to help him. Bella smiled a warm, gentle smile. "Do not worry, dear friend!" she said. "Kind hearts make happy days! I can help you carry them."

Working Together

Bella bent down with care. She used her strong paws. Bella gently picked up a big pile of nuts. Her paws held them very easily. Squeaky picked up his own smaller pile. "Thank you, Bella!" he chirped happily. Together, they walked towards Squeaky's cozy home. They walked slow and steady, side by side.
