

Oliver Fox and the Wobbly Tower

Oliver Fox and the Wobbly Tower

Little Stories. Big Lessons.

Oliver Sees a Tower

Oliver Fox loved Blossom Meadow. The sun felt warm on his fur. He saw Barnaby Badger building. Barnaby stacked many colourful blocks. He was making a very tall tower. "Hello, Barnaby!" Oliver called out. He wagged his fluffy tail. Oliver ran to see the tower. Barnaby smiled at his friend. "Look how tall it is!" Barnaby said. Oliver thought it was amazing.

Oliver Fox and the Wobbly Tower

Little Stories. Big Lessons.

Oops, It Fell Down!

Oliver wanted to help. He quickly put a block on top. But Oliver was too fast. The big tower began to wobble. "Oh no!" cried Barnaby. Crash! All the blocks fell down. They scattered all around. Barnaby felt very sad. He had worked so hard.

Oliver Fox and the Wobbly Tower

Little Stories. Big Lessons.

Oliver Says Sorry

Oliver's playful grin faded. He saw Barnaby's sad face. "I am so sorry, Barnaby," Oliver said softly. Barnaby did not look up. His eyes were watering. He just looked at the fallen blocks. Oliver knew he made a mistake. He thought, "Let's solve it together!"

Oliver Fox and the Wobbly Tower

Little Stories. Big Lessons.

Building Together

"Let's build it again!" Oliver said.
"Even better!" Barnaby slowly looked up. Oliver picked up a big red block.
"We can build it super strong," Oliver cheered. Barnaby picked up a blue block. Together, they started to stack. They laughed as they built.

Oliver Fox and the Wobbly Tower

Little Stories. Big Lessons.

Friends Again!

Soon, a new tower stood tall. It was bigger and much stronger! Barnaby clapped his paws. "Thank you, Oliver!" he said. Oliver felt warm inside. Making friends happy felt wonderful. Saying sorry and helping makes friendships strong. They played happily all afternoon.