A Morning in Maple Woods

Oliver Fox loved his Maple Woods home. The morning sun felt warm and bright. He bounced through the green grass. He looked for fun things to do. Suddenly, he saw Squeaky Squirrel. Squeaky sat under a very tall tree. He looked a little sad. "Hello, Squeaky!" Oliver called out. "What is wrong?"

Squeaky's Secret Tree

Squeaky looked up at Oliver. "Oh, Oliver," Squeaky said softly. "My favorite nuts are up there. They are so sweet and yummy. But the tree is very tall. I am scared to climb so high. And it's my secret nut tree." He looked at Oliver, unsure.

Oliver's Clever Idea

Oliver smiled. "I can help!" he said. "I will not tell anyone your secret. Let's solve it together!" He looked around the tree. He saw a long, strong vine hanging down. "Maybe this can help us," Oliver said. Squeaky watched Oliver, feeling a bit brave.

Sharing the Yummy Nuts

Oliver held the vine tightly. He gave it a gentle shake. Plop! Plop! Plop! Three big, yummy nuts fell down. Squeaky jumped with joy! "Thank you, Oliver!" he chattered. Oliver picked up the nuts. He gave two shiny nuts to Squeaky. Squeaky hugged his nuts tight.

Friends Who Trust

"You are a very good friend," Squeaky said. He crunched his yummy nut happily. Oliver smiled. "Friends help each other. And friends always trust each other. It makes our friendship strong." They played a fun game of chase. Squeaky felt so happy and safe with Oliver. It was a warm, happy day in Maple Woods.
