Penny Penguin's Polite Picnic

Penny Penguin's Polite Picnic

Little Stories. Big Lessons.

A Sunny Morning

Penny Penguin woke up early. The sun shone bright over Snowy Shores. "Healthy habits make every day fun!" she chirped. She packed her basket. It had yummy berry tarts and fresh fruit. Penny wanted to have a picnic. She thought of Blossom Meadow.

Penny Penguin's Polite Picnic

Little Stories. Big Lessons.

A Sad Friend

Penny walked cheerfully to Blossom Meadow. The colourful flowers swayed hello. She saw a little squirrel. It was Squeaky Squirrel. Squeaky looked very sad. His small basket was empty. He had dropped all his acorns on the path.

Penny Penguin's Polite Picnic

Little Stories. Big Lessons.

A Kind Offer

"Hello, Squeaky," Penny said with a kind smile. "Are you alright?" Squeaky looked up slowly. "I dropped my breakfast," he mumbled. Penny felt a warm feeling. She remembered her healthy snacks. "Would you like to share with me, please?" she asked him.

Penny Penguin's Polite Picnic

Little Stories. Big Lessons.

Sharing and Saying Thank You

Squeaky's eyes got big. "Really? Thank you, Penny!" he said. Penny carefully opened her basket. She offered Squeaky a juicy berry. Squeaky took it gently. "This is very kind of you," Squeaky said. Penny felt happy sharing her treats.

Penny Penguin's Polite Picnic

Little Stories. Big Lessons.

Happy Hearts

They sat together in the meadow. They ate the tasty fruit and tarts. Squeaky learned to say "please" and "thank you" too. Good manners made their picnic super fun! Penny knew sharing and being polite made everyone feel good inside.