Saturday Morning

Saturday morning was bright. Penny Penguin woke up with a big smile. She stretched her little wings and feet. "Healthy habits make every day fun!" she said loudly. Penny looked around her cozy igloo. Her favourite fluffy cloud toy was on the floor. Her shiny shells were scattered near her bed.

A Little Mess

"Oh dear," Penny said, looking around. Her home was a bit messy. It was hard to find her things. A clean home helps a happy mind. Penny loved to play fun games. But she also loved a clean, quiet place. She wanted to feel ready for Saturday adventures.

Tidying Game

Penny had a good idea! She put on her favourite happy music. It had a bouncy beat. Penny started a sorting game. "Let's put all the blue things here!" she sang. She moved quickly around her room. She put her small blue scarf into a blue box.

Helping Herself

Next, Penny picked up her storybooks. She stacked them neatly on her little shelf. Then she wiped her tiny table clean. Her small, strong flippers worked fast. Tidying made her body move. It felt like a fun little dance as she worked!
